SATISFACTION EXPRESSED BY SEN. HARDING

Republican Nominee Confident Campaign Was Successful.

AWAITS THE VERDICT

Will Receive Election Returns From Marion Headquarters.

Marion, O., Nov. 1.—There was a quiet tenseness of expectancy today at the headquarters of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for president.

The day before election found everyone, including the senator in a joyful and cheerful mood, and there was a noticeable relaxation of headquarters activity.

For all has been done that such a protracted presidential campaign requires, and now Senator Harding is resting as much as circumstances will permit and awaiting the verdict of the people.

His cheerfulness, warm smile and hearty handshake to old acquaintances of his home town who called at the Harding home to wish the candidate a "landslide to victory," indicated that the Republican standard bearer had unshakable confidence in the outcome. In his final statement to the American people, the senator declared:

"I feel not only complete confidence in the results of the campaign, but especial satisfaction in the methods which we have followed."

He declared he has taken the country into his complete confidence; has been frank and sincere in presenting his views on all issues before the nation and made no pledges except the "carefully considered promises to the American people."

"What I have said has been said to all men," he stated, "and all men have had opportunity to know what may be expected of me as president. I find satisfaction in the conviction that our methods have deserved the approval of the country and have earned the endorsement that will be registered next Tuesday."

Senator Harding will receive the election returns from press association wires which have been run into the newspaper workers bungalow at the rear of the Harding home.

The candidate will be as much interested in returns showing how many Republican senators are elected as in his own outcome. He is most anxious, if elected, as he believes he will be, to have large workable Republican majorities in both the senate and house of representatives. But of a large Republican majority in the house he has no doubt.

Harding headquarters were hopeful that good weather would prevail Tuesday so that a maximum vote would be registered everywhere.

ALL EYES CENTERED ON OHIO AS DECISIVE FACTOR IN ELECTION

State Conceded To Be Hinging Point, Of Outcome.

Washington, Nov. 1.—With the 1920 Presidential campaign virtually closed, experienced political observers have turned their eyes toward Ohio, which furnished both the major parties' nominees, as the state which will definitely determine whether Governor Cox or Senator Harding will succeed Woodrow Wilson in the White House.

"Without Ohio's 24 electoral votes Governor Cox cannot hope to win, while Senator Harding can lose Ohio and still have a majority in the electoral college," was one statement made after a careful canvass of every doubtful state. Senator Borah predicted that Senator Harding will carry Ohio by at least 100,000 majority.

Ohio also is a pivotal state in the close fight waged for control of the next United States Senate. On form the Republicans stand to show a minimum of three new seats, it was said here. That number would increase the present Republican majority of two to eight or more.

THREE ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Red Oak, Ia., Nov. 1.—Engineer E. A. Anderson and fireman C. E. Konkila of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train No. 10, and Engineer C. E. Tindell, of passenger train No. 1, and an unidentified passenger, were killed in a wreck near Station Station, Iowa, early today.

Train No. 10, eastbound, struck a freight train throwing the cars directly in the path of train No. 1 westbound. None of the cars of the passenger train left the tracks but the engine and both were completely destroyed.

HARDING LEADING IN FINAL BALLOT OF DRUG STORE

Probably the last bulletin on the Rexall drug company's straw vote, received at the Sayre and Hemphill drug store Monday, still gives Harding a lead over Cox in the presidential race which will be decided tomorrow.

All the way through the Rexall vote has predicted a Republican victory. Senator Harding jumping into the lead early in the start of the straw balloting and remaining at the lead position during the entire month. At times this lead was two to one, at times better than that, and at times it has fallen below that.

Cox's gains have been recorded mostly within the last week or two, and as the last bulletin is issued it gives Harding a lead of about 200,000 popular votes. To date, 1,160,714 popular votes have been cast and recorded in the campaign.

The total vote for Senator Harding according to the Monday's bulletin is 695,740 while the vote for Cox is 465,001. Of these the men cast a big majority that figures up to four times as many votes as cast by the women. The male vote is Harding 611,385 and Cox 350,484. The female vote gives Harding 184,355 and Cox 114,519. There have been 861,867 male votes and 298,874 female votes cast in the campaign.

In Ohio 35,484 men and 14,431 women have voted for Harding so far while 18,816 men and 6,638 women have voted for Cox. The straw balloting indicates an electoral vote of 364 for Harding and 167 for Cox, 266 being required to elect.

STEEL WORKERS OUT ON PROTEST STRIKE

Marietta, O., Nov. 1.—Following a controversy over the alleged "open shop" policy of the company, between 300 and 350 members of the Amalgamated Iron Steel and Tin Workers union walked out Monday morning at the plant of the Hudson Shoe and Tin Plate company here. All departments of the plant are affected and at noon it was reported all were closed down. Officials of the union declined to make a detailed statement pending a meeting of the local union scheduled for this afternoon.

JAPANESE CELEBRATE NATIONAL EVENT

Tokio, Nov. 1.—Two and one half million Japanese subjects today are visiting Tokio in celebration of the biggest national event in years—the opening of a magnificent shrine in honor of the late Emperor Meiji.

Predictions that the occasion would be seized upon as a great anti-American demonstration proved unfounded and any such suggestions apparently have been forgotten by the happy holiday crowds.

The tone of the newspaper comment appears more moderate but all are awaiting impatiently the verdict of the California voters tomorrow on the alien land law which it passed will bar the Japanese from owning land in California.

HARDING, IN LAST WORD TO PEOPLE REITERATES PLEDGE TO COUNTRY

Senator Makes Final Statement Outlining Policies When Elected—Declares He Will Continue To Be Free From Pledges, Groups and Interests, and Will Follow Paths Outlined During Campaign and by Republican Platform

(Note: The last word to the American people before election was conveyed today in the following exclusive statement by the Republican presidential candidate at the request of the International News Service.)

By Senator Warren G. Harding.

As the campaign reaches its end, I feel not only complete confidence in its results, but especial satisfaction in the methods which we have followed. I was nominated absolutely free from pledges, groups or interests, and I will be elected just as free. No commitments have been issued, no promises made save the carefully considered promises to the American people that have been the very basis of our appeal for support. Those pledges, together with the declarations of policy in the Republican platform, will constitute our covenant with the nation. By them we will lay our course during the next four years.

Throughout the campaign all effort has been directed to deserve the people's confidence, by dealing with them in complete sincerity and frankness. I find satisfaction in the conviction that our methods have deserved the approval of the country and have earned the endorsement that will be registered on Tuesday.

We promise to restore to the country the methods of constitutional government: to make and to keep the government representative of the national purpose and aspiration. We recognize that this is the first and greatest of the obligations upon us and we also recognize that the desire for such a program has been the most compelling force that has urged the nation to give its mandate to the Republican party.

I will, with all the power that is in me, work to bring unity and true understanding to our country. I will seek security, prosperity and insured independence for the nation, and will endeavor to make every citizen a partner in the fullest enjoyment of those blessings. There can be no true national welfare that does not find reflection in the lives and welfare of all the people.

I will have thought for America first. By making America strong, self-reliant, sound and secure, we will do most to give our example its weight to the world, and will thus deserve and gain the leadership among nations which will help to stabilize, re-establish and restore. Thus we may do most to create a new order in which peace may be preserved by proper understanding among the civilized nations, without infringing the independence or hampering the peculiar genius of any people.

I will aim to restore business methods to our government, to bring the costs of government back to reasonable figures, to strengthen the national credit, to place finances on a sound basis and to restore the policy of proper protection to American productive industry.

I have, throughout the campaign, set forth particular features of the program I have in mind for promoting national welfare and creating a better order in the world. What I have said has been said to all men and all men have had opportunity to know what may be expected from me as president. I will regard it a sacred duty to vindicate every pledge that I have given as a candidate.

WAR DEPARTMENT DENIES CHARGES OF GOVERNMENT LOSS

Issues Statement Of Several Thousand Words On Subject.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The War Department today answered charges that the government had suffered great losses through the sale of surplus supplies with the claim that it had saved $4,675,342,881.15 to the taxpayers of the country through the sale of such supplies and "settlements of claims."

The department made public a statement of several thousand words, in which it took up in detail charges made recently in a number of newspapers. Characterizing these charges as "unfounded," the statement said that to have a proper understanding of the situation it must be remembered that the department in making its purchases of war materials, was contemplating a field force of 5,000,000 men.

Declaring that how long it would be necessary to maintain this force in the field was a question which could not be answered, the statement said that had the war continued another year the supplies on hand at the signing of the armistice would have been totally inadequate.

Sergeant Kronin of the royal Irish constabulary was killed at Mulmoore.

A detachment of policemen were ambushed at Killibegs.

BOARD OF ELECTIONS TO GET RETURNS IN COURT ROOM

The Greene County Board of Elections will receive county returns election night in the Common Pleas Court Chamber instead of the small election board room, it is announced.

Owing to the small size of the election board room, the Common Pleas Court is being prepared with the addition of telephones and tables, to accommodate the election board and returns will be received there from county precincts as late as possible.

Visitors to the room will be welcomed by the Board as long as they remain outside the railing which will enclose the board members tallying results, but all spectators are urged to be as quiet as possible and avoid talking, especially during the time that returns will be coming in over the telephone.

CONTEST FOR SEATS IN U. S. CONGRESS IS GREAT ISSUE

Thirty Four Senators Will Be Selected On Tuesday.

Washington, Nov. 1.—A new house of representatives and slightly more than two-thirds of the senate will be chosen in Tuesday's general election. While the presidential campaign has eclipsed all others in interest, the congressional fight, particularly the senatorial contests, have received much attention from the leaders of both parties.

Both Senator Harding and Governor Cox have pleaded with the voters to elect a congress in which their respective parties would have a majority. The heads of the congressional and senatorial campaign committees have been especially active, stressing the importance of the senatorial elections, because the senate which meets next March 4 will be called upon to dispose of the question of peace with Germany.

The present senate is composed of 48 Republicans, 1 Progressive Republican and 47 Democrats. Thirty-four senators will be selected to fill unexpired terms caused by the deaths of Senators Bankhead of Alabama and Martin of Virginia. These two places are certain to be filled by the Democrats.

Seventeen of the 32 senators whose terms expire next March 3 are Democrats to obtain a majority must capture at least two seats from the Republicans. Leaders of both parties are claiming accessions to their present strength. Four hundred and thirty-five members of the house of representatives are to be elected Tuesday. The number necessary for a majority is 218. The present membership of the house is 190 Democrats, 232 Republicans, two Independent and one Prohibitionist with nine vacancies.

BODY OF DETECTIVE BURIED WITH POLICE HONORS MONDAY

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—With police honors, the body of Detective Charles E. Tiller, fatally shot, was buried here this afternoon. John Cooper, 41, negro, is in jail, accused of murdering Detective Tiller.

Cooper, who was caught after a chase and a long gun battle among the Athens county hills, claimed Tiller was accidentally shot while trying to take a revolver from Cooper's pocket during a scuffle in a local saloon. Cooper insisted he "didn't want to shoot Tiller nor hurt any

TWENTY ONE AUTO ACCIDENTS OCCUR

Canton, Nov. 1.—Twenty-one automobile accidents occurred in Canton and vicinity Sunday, none with serious results, although half a dozen persons were treated for their injuries in local hospitals. A loaded seven passenger touring car driven by I. C. Rudner, of Alliance, crashed head on into a machine with five passengers, driven by M. Droskey, on the Alliance road, and Mrs. Rudner and one other passenger were taken to a hospital. Several of the accidents occurred when autoists ran down pedestrians on the streets.

BODY OF MAYOR LAID TO REST WITH CEREMONY

Funeral Rivals Any In History of Ireland In Impressiveness.

IS NATIONAL HERO

British Government Takes Great Military Precautions in City.

Cork, Nov. 1.—A guard of honor composed of Sinn Fein volunteers kept watch throughout the night over the grave of Terence MacSwiney, the late lord mayor, who was buried yesterday afternoon in the plot reserved for Irish Republican volunteers who fell in action.

It had been announced that the funeral would not be held until today in protest against the action of the British government in seizing the body at Holy Head, Wales, but at the last minute it was decided to adhere to the original plans and the burial took place during the afternoon. Beneath a great mound of fragrant flowers overspread with the Sinn Fein flag the body rests in St. Finbar's cemetery just outside this city.

Never in the history of south Ireland had there been such an impressive funeral. The ceremonies were such as mark the burial of a great national hero. Thousands of mourners filled St. Mary's cathedral and the adjoining streets. The procession had been limited to half a mile but it was twice that long. The floral tributes were unprecedented. They came not only from Sinn Feiners in Ireland but from sympathetic organizations in other countries, chiefly the United States. Strong military precautions were taken by the British government.

DAVIS SENDS OUT LAST STATEMENT

Cleveland, O., Nov. 1.—On the eve of election today Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, issued the following statement:

"The campaign is ended. Its decision at the polls Tuesday is in the hands of the voters. I do not wish to let this moment pass without expressing to the people of Ohio my appreciation of the spirit of fairness which they have shown in every part of the state, in the face of the malicious tongue of slander by which the Democratic opposition has seen fit to assail Senator Harding, as well as myself.

"The public condemnation of Democratic methods which had evidenced itself everywhere clearly indicated what the verdict of the people will be tomorrow."

SECRETARY OF STATE URGES THAT VOTES BE CAST EARLY

Women Should Cast Ballots Between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—"Vote early" is the request contained in a statement issued to Ohio voters by Secretary of State Smith.

"Vote tomorrow morning before going to work, if possible. If this can not be done, vote as soon as possible after returning from work."

"The importance of this cannot be over emphasized. By observing this appeal, you will serve not only yourself, but your neighbors."

"Polls open at 5:30 a. m. tomorrow. It is my wish that not a voter may remain standing in line when polls close at 5:30 p. m., and thereby, lose his, or her vote."

"Housewives and others who do not have to go to work in the morning should go to the polls between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., during which period they will be least apt to interfere with, or be interfered with, by men and women who have employment away from home."

"Election officials will do their utmost to accommodate the electorate. Electors, also, can do much to assist the election machinery by observing the advice set forth above. The unprecedented vote this year, due largely to the enfranchisement of women, makes it the duty of all to pull together to the end that all may register their voice in the election."

DAYTON JOURNAL SUED BY CHANCELLOR

Dayton, Nov. 1.—Suit for $100,000 for alleged libel was filed today against the Dayton Journal by Professor William Estabrook Chancellor in the Court of Common Pleas here.

The alleged libel consisted in statements made by the Journal, charging that Chancellor had retracted statement reflecting upon Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential candidate.

The present senate is composed of 48 Republicans, 1 Progressive Republican and 47 Democrats. Thirty-four senators will be selected to fill unexpired terms caused by the deaths of Senators Bankhead of Alabama and Martin of Virginia. These two places are certain to be filled by the Democrats.

Seventeen of the 32 senators whose terms expire next March 3 are Democrats to obtain a majority must capture at least two seats from the Republicans. How To Read Bomb Signals Election Night

A series of large aerial bombs will be fired Tuesday night, sometime between midnight and 2 a. m., to tell the people of the county how the Presidential election has gone.

The Gazette and the Republican have secured the largest bombs obtainable, which will be fired from mortars set for the purpose, in the Roberts' Addition. The bombs are shot into the air several hundred feet, and then exploded with terrific force, causing a detonation that, with favorable atmospheric conditions, may be heard in the farthest corners of Greene county.

In this new way, the Gazette and the Republican are making the effort to get the returns to all the people of the county, in the quickest possible manner.

ORDER OF FIRING

First will come a bomb to indicate that we are ready to give the returns. It is merely a signal for everyone to listen for what will follow.

Three minutes after this signal bomb is fired, the bomb or bombs, giving the results of the election may be read as follows:

One bomb—Harding Elected.
Two bombs—Cox Elected.
Three bombs—Election close, and undecided.

In addition to the above, the usual stereopticon returns will be thrown upon a large screen in front of the Gazette building on South Detroit street. For this occasion the best facilities of the country have been provided, and no public in the United States will be better served on election night than the people of Greene county.

Special Tax Proposition

Xenia City School District

For an additional Tax Levy of three mills for five years for school purposes.

X YES

For an additional Tax Levy of three mills for five years for school purposes.

NO

Everybody Wants Good Schools

But unless help is given to our Xenia City Schools our boys and girls will be deprived of good schools now and in the future. The number of pupils in school. the salaries of teachers, the cost of coal, books, and every other article used by the schools has increased. We have tried to meet these in creasing costs and thus not lower the standards of our schools by borrowing money and issuing bonds. We have done this mainly to pay salaries large enough to keep in Xenia our successful teachers.

We cannot borrow any more money. We can issue more bonds but this is an expensive way of doing bus- iness. The interest on these bonds alone will soon amount to more than the slight increase in taxes which we are asking.

The last session of legislature revised the school law so that school districts might, by popular vote, add 3 mills to the regular school levy. Almost every city and village school district in Ohio has voted on this measure and not one has defeated it. Why? Because they all believe that education is the best thing we can leave our children.

Shall we do the same on next Tuesday, or shall we deprive our boys and girls of the educational advan- tages which parents and citizens in other progressive cities in Ohio are giving theirs?

Vote "yes" and help keep our schools in session ten months instead of eight. Vote "yes" and help us to make our schools ont only as good as they have been, but better still.

We, the undersigned, have examined the finan- cial condition of the Xenia public schools and find that the three mill levy should be passed in order that our schools may live.

We therefore recommend to the voters that they vote YES on this issue

VOTERS ARE WARNED NOT TO WRITE IN PRESIDENTIAL NAMES

Voters at Tuesday's election, are warned not to scratch the names of any presidential candidate or electors, to write in the name of any candidate or elector of their own choice by the Board of Elections following a special meeting.

It was brought to the attention of the board that there is a movement on foot instructing the new voters, to scratch the names of either one of the other of the presidential candidates and in their place write the name of Dr. Aaron S. Watkins, Prohibitionist candidate for president. In some cases they are urged to write the name of an elector on the ballot.

The Board has received no word from the Secretary of State authorizing such measures and for this reason has instructed election judges to not consider ballots that have been defaced or mutilated in this way. Voters are warned if the person on the names of any of the presidential candidates in order to write in the name of Watkins or any other candidates, that their ballots will be thrown away and they will lose their vote altogether.

The reason for this is that the Prohibition party has no authorized candidates or electors on the ticket. For this reason the party head does not come before the voters on the ticket, and there is no place to write the names in without defacing the ballot, which is against the law. There are 96 electors on the national ticket, each of the four parties being represented by 24, and it will be necessary to vote for one of these four groups, or lose the vote by attempting to write in the names of electors who are not on the ticket, though pledged to Watkins.

The Board of Elections also took action criticising the actions of certain women who have been polling the different precincts, and who, it is alleged, led many voters to believe that unless they signed certain papers which the presented that they would not be allowed to vote.

There is no registration required here and therefore any woman who has reached the age of 21 and has fulfilled the proper qualifications regarding the length of residence, in state county and precinct, can cast her ballot at the election Tuesday without being challenged. It is alleged that a number of women have been led to believe that they would not be permitted to vote because of the statements of these women canvassers.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT PERVADES STREETS OF XENIA SATURDAY

Carnival spirit pervaded the streets of Xenia when gaily clad celebrators paid tribute to that day of hobgoblins and witches, Halloween.

While the proximity of election, and the fact that the day fell on Sunday, making it necessary to celebrate on Saturday spoiled chances for an organized celebration, the masqueraders were out in force as usual and promenade the streets until a late hour.

Small kids were rampant but not dangerously so, as the police blotter showed no arrests for Halloween pranks. Of course there were the usual porch chair hanging high and dry on a telephone pole, the missing porch swing, the terrifying tick-tacks, the mysterious removal of unmovable articles, and other evidences that the kids had had their inning. But there was nothing much of a disastrous nature, and citizens who climbed atop poles to garner in their furniture thought of more reckless celebrations a few years ago, and said nothing.

The unfavorable time for the annual event however, did not seem to damp the ardor of the masqueraders. There were the grotesquely costumed and the fancy dressed, parading through the crowded Saturday night streets, to the amusement of pedestrians, and the annoyance of those who were accosted by mysterious friends who refused to talk lest their voice disclose their identity.

One chap in particular must have spent hours preparing his costume, which was nothing more than a case of "tar and feathers." By the application of glue, this individual had covered his clothes with feathers from his shoes to the crown of his high hat, and he was the cause for much mirth in his pilgrimage through the streets.

Your husband—your family—your guests simply cannot tell any difference.

And in cooking, too, you have every advantage of fresh creamery butter. Golmar is not a substitute for creamery butter—it's the same thing, in taste, in body-building elements, in wholesomeness, in digestibility! It costs less simply because it is cheaper to grow coconuts than to feed cows.

Golmar is churned fresh daily from choice coconut oils and pasteurized milk—every package comes to you in perfect condition—and it stays fresh amply long enough for a small family to use a pound.

Get a package from your dealer today—use it as you now are using creamery butter—and prove to yourself that it will replace creamery butter in every way. If you are not satisfied your money will be cheerfully refunded.

The Famous Golmar Test Example No. 14 Golmar on Baked Potatoes

PLACE a pat of Golmar and one of fresh creamery butter side by side. Then put a bit of Golmar on one baked potato, and some creamery butter on another. Take a bite of one and then of the other, and we challenge you to tell which is Golmar. Golmar is the equal of and is equalled only by fresh creamery butter.

The same coloring matter used in creamery butter is supplied with Golmar so you can color it at home and save the tax of 10 cents per pound which the Government would collect if Golmar were colored by the makers.

VOTE STRAIGHT.

Several thousand people of Greene County will Tuesday, exercise their right of franchise for the first time. To them as well as to veteran voters the appeal is made to vote the straight Republican ticket.

Much conflicting propaganda has been rife, urging voters to scratch the ticket, and which, in some cases, if followed, would result in mutilating the ballot with the consequent loss of the entire vote. This of course, should be guarded against, and the safest way to do this, is to avoid the chance of error by putting your cross in the circle under the eagle, which will mean that your vote for the Republican candidates is assured.

Political mud-slinging and vilification always reaches its climax just prior to election day, and stories, aimed to injure the cause of some one or more of the candidates, are especially prolific at that time. In many cases these stories are without foundation of truth, and in others are mere distortion of fact, for the ultimate purpose of obtaining votes. Such tales have been circulated against many Republican candidates. Do not let them influence your vote. Remember that for every story against your choice, there is also one against his opponent, and you can conscientiously cast your vote for any candidate on the Republican state and national ticket without fear that you have made a mistake.

Do not run the risk of losing your entire vote Republicans. Vote the straight ticket at the polls Tuesday.

THE NOBLEST MOTIVE WE CAN HAVE IS THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The election is practically over—only the "shouting" by the successful party remaining. In a few hours we will know whether James M. Cox or Warren G. Harding is to be President of the United States for the next four years. And who will dare dispute the claim that our's is the best country on which the sun shines in its revolving course? The election was conducted with no acrimony worth speaking of, and one of our own fellow citizens was elevated to be our Ruler. God be praised for a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Some have said that it is not the business of private men to meddle with government—a sinister and dishonest saying, fit only for a slave or a tyrant. To say that private men should have nothing to do with government is to say that private men should have nothing to do with their own happiness or misery; that people ought not concern themselves whether they be well clothed and well fed, or whether they be naked or starved.

Look the world over and which of the other nations would you choose above this one as a place of residence? Seldom do we hear of our citizens preferring other lands. Occasionally one who apes British aristocracy, because of pride which ill befits him, considering the pit from which he was digged—his ancestors, as plebian as your's or mine—wants to strut and be bowed to as if of better clay than ordinary persons. But these are the exceptions.

The best of all governments is that which teaches us to govern ourselves, and we certainly come nearer that criterion than any of the other nations. We give credit for the intelligence that prevails in this country, first of all to our school system. Education is the best apprenticeship for life that can be bestowed. School houses are the best fortifications for a republican government.

Having passed another milestone in our country's life what better sentiment can express our love of it than one once uttered by Daniel Webster: "Let our best regard be for our country, our whole country. And by the blessing of God, may that country itself become a vast and splendid monument, not of oppression and terror, but of Wisdom, Peace and of Liberty, upon which the world may gaze with admiration forever."

CHINA AN "OPEN DOOR" FOR AMERICAN MANUFACTURERS.

Paul Page Whitham, trade commissioner of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has just returned from three years of investigation in the Orient and presents some facts concerning the tremendous possibilities for American business in the East, and in China, in particular.

Asserting that his present mission in life was to "put a burr under the saddle of the American business horse," he showed where more vision and far-sighted progressiveness was necessary if manufacturers in this country are to get their fair share of the business that will soon be coming from China.

Mr. Whitham corrected a rather general impression that China was fast asleep, and showed where many of the most progressive ideas of modern business were daily practices in that land. As examples, he cited the case of Nantungchow, a Chinese city of 150,000 population, which utilizes the magazine advertising columns just as do many of our own "booming" cities.

China has vast plains in the northwestern part that are almost exactly like our own West, with an even vaster potentiality and, as was the case with our West, all that is necessary for the development of these tremendous resources is an expansion of the railroad system.

Despite the fact that China is one-sixth larger than continental United States and has virtually four times the population, it has only 6000 miles of railroad to our 250,000 miles. It was on the suggestion that American concerns should start laying their foundation of friendship among the Chinese people now, that Mr. Whitham laid the most stress.

He pointed out that, sooner or later, capital would be furnished for the building of the necessary railroads as the newly awakened progressiveness of the Chinese would force such action. He said it had better be American capital if we expect to get the business. He told of a cotton mill that was erected near Shanghai at a cost of $10,000,000. Most of this money was raised by the Chinese themselves but a small balance was made up by American capital. As a direct result an American company did the concrete work on the building and supplied the machinery.

Mr. Whitham urges the American manufacturers to get representatives into China at once and be prepared to spend money there, so that the expansion, which he said is inevitable, would not catch us napping.

AULTMAN SELECTED PRESIDENT OF OHIO TEACHERS BODY

Superintendent H. C. Aultman, of the Greene County schools, was elected president of the Southwestern Ohio Teacher's Association for next year, at the annual election of officers held the closing day of the Friday and Saturday sessions of the Association at Music Hall, Cincinnati.

Superintendent Aultman, has been a member of the executive committee for several years, and as chairman of that committee, this last year was in charge of arrangements for the big meeting held in Cincinnati which is one of the biggest teachers' convocations ever held by the Association.

Almost 4,000 teachers, superintendents and principals, were in attendance at the opening session of the convention at Music Hall Friday morning. The association draws not only from southwestern Ohio, but also from Northern Kentucky and south eastern Indiana, which explains its large membership.

If You, Look Pale, Feel Gloomy and Run-Down, Take Pepto-Mangan and Build Up

You see men and women who are never right. They work hard, look robust, eat heartily and enjoy life. They have plenty of rich, red blood. That's why they are never ill.

People who try to get along with weak, impoverished blood always have a struggle. They go from one sickness to another. Children the same way.

If you keep your blood rich and red you'll enjoy full vigor. Disease has little chance to develop in healthy blood. As soon as you feel run down take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It will feed your blood with the ingredients needed to create a good supply of red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. They are alike in medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should appear on the package.—Adv.

In preparation for the meeting to be held next year, on the last Friday and Saturday in October, tentative plans have already been laid to have Henry Van Dyke, the great poet and writer and Senator Beveridge, whose late writings have put him in the literary class, speak at the Friday sessions of the Association next year. The purpose in bringing these two men to the meeting is to strengthen faith in the governmental institutions.

The theme of the Cincinnati meeting was "all the children of all the people." Prominent educators and theologians were on the program during the convention, which was found to be most profitable. A number of teachers from Greene County were present. Miss Edna Bloom of this city, being chairman of the Primary-Intermediate Section which held its meeting in the auditorium of Hugh High School.

MAROONS WINNERS OVER INDIANS BY SCORE OF 27-7

Displaying unlimited offensive power, and an almost impregnable defense, the Xenia Maroons defeated the Riverview Indians of Cincinnati at Reserve Park, Sunday afternoon, 27-7 in one of the cleanest and fastest exhibitions of the grid pastime staged here this season.

A crowd of 500 people, the largest of the season, witnessed the set-to between the moleskin gladiators. The fracas was not near as one-sided as the score would indicate, the visitors warming up interest with several long passes when they found that straight football tactics were out of the question against the heavy local line.

MIAMI-DENISON GAME ENDS 7 TO 7

Xenia fans who attended the Miami-Denison football game in Dayton Saturday, were treated to a mediocre exhibition, for a college game, that ended in a score of 7-7.

Minus the service of "Yip" Owens, their accredited "pop" injector, and famous punter, the Baptist aggregation seemed to lose its punch, and was woefully weak on its offense. Only a fluke enabled the Denison outfit to score, when "Red" Hale, captain and center for Miami and last year's all-Ohio pick, tossed the pigskin over Munn's head on an attempted punt, after Miami had already scored by straight football.

The bad toss, was run down by three or four players from both sides, who booted the ball almost to the Denison goal before it was recovered by Rettig on the three yard line. Hollinger was able to score. Raymond Snodgrass, of this city, who is substituting at end for Livingston's crowd, broke into the pastime during the last quarter, and staged a better exhibition of the game than his running mate, Jefferson, had shown during the entire pastime. Snodgrass caught one of the two passes completed by Denison. Through the fact that he wore a jersey numbered "12" and as "12" was listed as Seible on the score-card, Dayton papers had Snodgrass's name as Seible in Sunday stories of the game.

WILBERFORCE ELEVEN DEFEATS KENTUCKY

Scoping up a blocked punt in the initial quarter, Lowery right tackle on the Wilberforce University team, fell across the goal line for the first and only touch down of the game, Saturday at Wilberforce, the local lads defeating Kentucky State 6-0, after Laws had missed the goal attempt.

The break in the game came early. The Wilberforce attack opened up strong after the kick off, but bracing on their own fiveyard line, the Kentuckians held for downs. Steward was called back to punt. Lowery tore through the line as Steward's toe met the leather, and the Wilberforce tackle blocked the kick and scooping it up dashed across the goal.

In the remaining periods, the game was hard fought with neither side having a distinct advantage. Kentucky State threatened in the final quarter when she carried the pellet to Wilberforce's 20-yard line. Here the local defense stiffened and turned the tide back 25 yards from where Heard punted out of danger. There were seven minutes of play left, but the Southern eleven had lost its last chance.

Wilberforce has one of the best gridiron combinations it has boasted in several years. The team does not have another game booked until Thanksgiving Day, when the school will celebrate by playing West Virginia State on the local field. The lineup:

FAST TRAIN JUMPS TRACK; ONE HURT

Newark, Ohio, Nov. 1.—One woman was hurt seriously and scores of other passengers were bruised and shaken up when a Pennsylvania limited, train jumped the track here last midnight, while running at a speed of 60 miles an hour.

Eight Pullman coaches were derailed and three were overturned in a ditch, when the St. Louis-New York train hit what was believed to be a broken flange on a rail.

Of the 199 passengers aboard the train, Mrs. Catherine Volburt, of Hoboken, N. J., was the only one injured seriously. Escape of the others seemed nothing short of miraculous. The passengers were from St. Louis, Indianapolis and Columbus, enroute to points East.

WEST VIRGINIAN IS KILLED

Williamsport, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Travis Horton, of Thacker, was killed instantly; Matt Lester, of Matewan, was injured probably fatally and Doug Mounts and James Overstreet, of Matewan, were seriously hurt in three separate shooting affrays in Mingo county. Mounts and Overstreet are under indictment and awaiting trial on charges growing out of the recent fatal rioting at Matewan.

BEAUTY CHATS

Not very many women know that even the most unruly hair can be trained to look better with a little care and a great deal of persistence. In some cases it may take years before success is reached, but any woman will agree that it is worth the effort.

If you have the sort of hair that sticks out from the head so that it will not form a soft line when you brush it back, you can train it to lie flat by binding it every night with a broad piece of silk. Brush the hair softly away from the face, then bind it down with a band of soft material. If you have any old crepe de chine ties, use these because they are the right length, and as they are cut on the bias they fit easily around the head. After the hair has been shampooed, it is soft and much easier to train. So if for a few nights after the shampoo you keep it bound properly it will probably do up as softly as you wish.

Many women desire a slight wave in their hair yet quite sensibly do not wish to use hot irons or even curlers. It is possible to train a soft wave into even the straightest hair if you have the patience to bind the head properly every night. To produce this wave, brush the hair back from the face in a loose pompadour and hold it in place with a comb. Then bind a piece of ribbon around the head about two inches from the forehead. Bind another piece of ribbon around the head about two inches behind this, and pull the hair out softly between the two ribbons. If you wish a more elaborate wave bind a third piece of ribbon around the head a little behind these, always pulling the hair out softly between each ribbon. This will be particularly effective if the hair has just been shampooed.

E. O.—Two or three months should show some results from your fattening treatments. You may hasten it by taking a tablespoonful of malt three times each day with the meals.

M. M. T.—Soak the hair in vinegar. This will loosen the eggs which have been glued to the shaft of the hair. Comb out with a fine toothed comb kept wet with the vinegar. This removes all of the eggs from the hair. The active vermin is destroyed by making the hair in kerosene and allowing it to remain on the head overnight. Tie the head up in a cloth. And then shampoo in the morning.

M. B.—You are about 15 pounds overweight. To reduce your weight, stop eating any of the starchy foods, such as potatoes, beans, cereals and all fat meats. Do not eat sweets, such as candy, ice cream or rich desserts. Take more fruit and green vegetables and salads. Lean meats and fish should be substituted for the fat meat, and graham bread instead of that made from white flour.

(Political Advertisement) MRS. JOHN POLITICS— INDEPENDENT

CHAPTER IX.

Just as Mrs. Politics finished, the door bell rang. She stepped to the door and her neighbor, Mrs. Gossip, entered.

"Why, good evening, Mrs. Gossip," said Mrs. Politics. "I'm glad you came over. My husband and I were just talking politics."

"Well, that is just what I came over for myself. I want to know if you heard about these letters that have been scattered broadcast over the country."

"No, I think not," said Mrs. Politics. "What are they?"

"Why," said Mrs. Gossip, "these letters are testimonials of four or five ministers to the effect that our candidate for Governor is a fine man and was a splendid mayor of Cleveland. You see, I am a Republican, and I have not liked the way you temperance people have been representing him."

"Well," replied Mrs. Politics, "if these are the letters to which you refer, will say that I have seen them and of course it is only natural that they have some influence with you, but I have been informed concerning some of these ministers, and their testimony does not go very far with me. What if four or five ministers have come out in favor of him? That means very little when so many have come out against him. If one good man testified to a certain thing and 75 just as good or better testified to the opposite, you would certainly conclude that the one man was either prejudiced, misinformed, or had deliberately told what he knew was false. Now do you prefer the testimony of these four or five ministers to that of the Ministerial association of Cleveland containing scores of ministers, the Cuyahoga County W. C. T. U., Y. W. C. A., the testimony of the Special Grand Jury called by the Attorney General to investigate conditions in Cleveland, the report of which Grand Jury constitutes one of the severest arraignments of Mr. Davis that the mayor of any city ever received in the history of the American municipal government?"

If so, it is impossible to convince you by any testimony. I wish to quote you a section from the letter of the Cuyahoga County W. C. T. U., and Y. W. C. A., which is as follows: "You remember the famous Davis Order No. 73, which gave the police positive instructions not to raid any den of gambling or prostitution without first reporting the facts to the Director of Public Safety and receiving instructions to proceed. The obvious effect of this was to give every friend of Davis engaged in these unlawful occupations protection against police interference."

There was also something very significant happened the other day in Columbus. In the Council of the Federation of Churches being held in that city there were sixteen denominations represented by the 72 ministers from all over the state. A straw vote was taken during the convention and the result tells its own story. I will give it to you as it was given to me by one of the ministerial delegates to that Council. Harding received 45 votes, Cox 27, Davis 10, Donahy 62.

"Well, well," said Mrs. Gossip, "that settles it for me, and I have nothing more to say in his defense, and I would vote against him, but I believe that the president and the majority of the congress should be of the same party, so that there won't occur another deadlock between president and congress over the question of The League of Nations, or any other important legislation."

"Well, now Mrs. Gossip your position is well taken, but as it happens you can vote a mixed ticket and not change your position on that question. You see you can vote a Republican National ticket straight; then when you come to the state ticket you can jump across and put an X at the left of the name of the Governor and the Attorney General on the other ticket, and that will not affect congress nor the League of Nations question, and yet you will have struck a hard blow for temperance, for these state officers have a great deal to do with the enforcement of Prohibition law. Then you can come back and put an X at the left of all the names on your ticket that you desire, among which will be your Senator, Mr. Willis, and your Representative, Dr. Fess. Both of these have been tried and found true on the temperance question."

Now you see you can vote a mixed ticket and still support your president and your representatives to congress, so that if elected, the president and congress can work in harmony. Of course I know some of the soldier boys are standing out against Fess because he voted against the bonus bill, and while my sympathies are with the soldier boy, and I feel that he deserves all we can possibly give him, and Dr. Fess has supported every bill in their favor but this one, and I believe in the end they will come to see that Dr. Fess had their best interest as well as that of the country at heart.

"Well," said Mrs. Gossip, after thinking a moment, "I believe you are right, and I think I shall vote accordingly, but I must be going. Hope I shall see you at the polls tomorrow. Goodbye. Don't forget to vote YES on House Bill 620."

After she had gone, Mr. Politics said, "Well, wife, you have certainly fought hard for temperance, and as for me, will say that I have come largely to your way of thinking. I expect, however to vote for my candidates on the National ticket on account of the great issues at stake."

"Well, John, you may be right in your position, but I think I shall vote for Watkins and Colvin. Prohibition headquarters have instructed us that we can do so by using either the Democratic or Republican ticket on the National ballot. We cross out the name of the president and write Watkins above; then we cross out the name of the vice president and write Colvin above; then we cross out the name of the first elector and write below the name, James R. Connor, then you put an X at the left of the name James R. Connor. This is the only X we make, and if we do as instructed, we vote the Prohibition ticket."

"Well, wife, I did not know that, and if you feel you ought to vote that way, I admire you for being true to your conscience. I suspect we had better retire as it is late and tomorrow will be a busy day."

"Yes, John. I have tried hard to do my duty. If I have made any mistake, or said things I should not, I am sorry, but I shall always have a clear conscience that I tried to put up a clean, hard fight for the cause of temperance."

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF
NICOLAS BOILEAU
November 1, 1636

The French poet and critic Nicolas Boileau, was the fifteenth child of a poor clerk who lived in Paris. His mother died when he was two years old, and the child and his numerous brothers and sisters grew up without having much care lavished upon them. In spite of the size of the family and his father's position, Boileau received a good education, for he studied first theology and then law. His father seems to have accumulated some money for on his death Nicolas, aged 21, inherited enough to drop a profession and devoted himself to writing.

Boileau's early poems show very little ability, but as he matured his writing improved so that he became the first poet of France. It was he who showed the poetic possibilities of the French language. With one or

He came under the notice of Louis XIV who had him brought to court. The king asked which he thought his best verses, upon which the diplomatic poet selected as "the least bad" some unprinted lines in honor of the monarch. The pleased the king so much that he gave him a large pension.

The personal events of his life are uneventful enough. He was kindly, honest, charitable, and a little too outspoken. He was the first to reduce versification to rule and his influence on Alexander Pope and the English writers of that period was greater than his influence on his own countrymen. He died in 1711.

SIXTEEN ARE DEAD AS THE RESULT OF CHICAGO TROUBLE

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Sixteen persons are dead and many others injured as a result of the Saturday night and early Sunday outbreaks of crime, joy riding by drunken brawlers, train and street car accidents, quarrels, robberies and other elements that tend to make human life one of the poorest risks in Chicago.

Included in the list are three murders, and among six other mysterious and unexplained deaths, there probably are at least four more murders. Four persons were killed by railroad trains and three died under burning automobiles after crashing down in wrecks.

In addition to the crimes which resulted in death, there were numerous robberies. Perhaps the most highly organized series of robberies took place in Elmhurst, an exclusive suburb and the Chief of Police, Harry Magers, who by the way, was also the entire police force on Saturday night, was fatally shot by robbers.

ELEVEN MEN KILLED IN POWDER PLANT EXPLOSION IN EAST

North Tonawanda, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Eleven men were killed in an explosion and fire caused by the overheating of a transformer in the power maintained by the Niagara Falls Power Co., Sunday. Five of the men were burned to death, while six were so badly burned that their deaths followed shortly.

The men were engaged in the work of connecting the cables of the Niagara Power Co., with the generators of the local plant and the work completed and power turned on. The test had been made and the power was on for about seven minutes, when a sizzling noise was heard in the generator box. Orders were given to shut off the power, but before the switch was reached there was a terrific explosion. The oil used for cooling the transformer was instantly ignited and the room in which the men were working was filled with gas and flames. Five of the men were caught like rats in a trap and burned almost to a crisp. The other men dashed for an opening leading from the tower into the local company's station. Some were overcome and fell in the doorway, while the clothing of the men who escaped from the room was in flames.

TRIED RECIPES.
Toasted Cheese Sandwiches.—Place thinly sliced cheese between sliced bread and brown on both sides in butter or butter substitute. This makes a very good and substantial luncheon dish.

Chocolate Souffle.—In a double boiler melt two tablespoons butter, add two tablespoons flour, stirring constantly and pour on gradually, three-quarters cup milk. Cook until mixture thickens, then add one-third cup sugar and three tablespoons cocoa mixed together. Lastly add the yolks of three eggs beaten until pale yellow. Cool, fold in the beaten whites of the eggs and bake twenty-five minutes in a buttered baking dish. Serve either hot or cold with cream. For a fancy dessert serve in dessert glasses, topping with whipped cream and a marshmallow cherry. The above is sufficient for six people, but can easily be reduced by half or a third.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.—Scoop the center from medium sized, firm tomatoes, sprinkle with salt, drain and place on lettuce leaf. Prepare the following mixture, which should be placed in the tomatoes just before placing on the table:

Filling: Take one tablespoon cottage cheese to each tomato, mix with it a little chopped onion and green pepper and add a few drops of lemon juice. Salt and paprika to taste.

Corn a la Southern.—Cut amount of corn desired from cob, then add two eggs slightly beaten, one and one-half tablespoons melted butter, one pint scalded milk, salt and pepper. Turn into buttered casserole and bake in slow oven until firm. Left over corn on the cob may be used.

Minute Steak Maryland.—Have a piece of round steak cut thin, then cut in pieces about the size of your hand and score deeply both sides with sharp knife. Rub each piece of steak in seasoned flour, rubbing in well. Put in frying pan plenty of sweet lard, drop in steak and cover closely. Fry until golden brown, turning occasionally. After you lift out meat put in flour, let it scorch a little, then add water and milk mixed and seasoning to taste.

CANNING AND PRESERVING.
Grape Conserve.—Take eight pounds of grapes, four pounds of sugar, three oranges (using both rind and pulp), one pound of seedless raisins.

Pulp the grapes and take out all seeds. Put grape hulls and pulp, oranges and raisins together and cook twenty minutes. Add sugar and cook twenty minutes.

Peach Sauce.—Take one pint of cider vinegar, six pounds of sugar. Put on to boil, stirring constantly until dissolved, or it will burn.

Wash one peck of peaches and drop whole, without peeling, into the syrup. The vinegar eats the skin and the stones can be lifted out, as they boil away from the pulp. Cook until thick and can.

Grapes.—Separate skins from the pulp, cook pulp in a little water, press through a sieve to remove seeds, add skins to pulp and one-quarter as much sugar. Cook till skins are tender.

$20,000 FIRE ON FARM

Princeton, Nov. 1.—Fire destroyed a large barn and chicken coop on the Louis Ambrose farm, causing a loss of $20,000. Four horses, 11 cows nearly 500 chickens, seven pigs and 70 ton of hay were lost.

"The Woman He Married"

BY JANE PHELPS

Nan and Dick are Married.

Chapter I.
Dick and I were young when we married—too young, mother feared. But we loved each other dearly, and at first were very, very happy.

Like all really true-to-life stories mine is but the weave of many trivial incidents. There was in my life, as there is in yours, tragedy and comedy, sunshine and shadow, tears and laughter.

How could we imagine, loving each other as we did, that we should ever almost wish we never had married? Did I say almost? I fear there were many times in Dick's life when he regretted marrying me. And if I am honest there were also times in mine when I didn't really regret marrying him. I wished I had waited until he had established himself in business and could have given me more.

For I craved excitement—but, above and beyond all, clothes and extravagant living. I was also to be his Nemesis—absorbing all that was dependable in him, coming between him and all he might have been or done.

I was a small town girl, my people in only fairly comfortable circumstances. I had graduated from high school, then had helped Mother around the house, made our clothes with the assistance of the village dressmaker, and been a happy and contented girl.

I was visiting a girl friend in an adjoining town when I met Dick. Her brother and Dick had been chums and roommates at Cornell. We were constantly thrown together for three weeks of my visit; after that our courtship was mostly done by mail. Dick had his own way to make in the world, and could not afford railroad fares too often. He made us one visit; rather, he came to our town at Christmas and spent a week at the hotel—that is he slept there; every waking hour he was with me.

On my twenty-first birthday we were married, Dick was 25.

For a little over a year Dick had been in the office of Blake & Ogden, cotton brokers. His salary was very small—I thought it very generous when I married him, almost munificent.

We rented an apartment of four tiny rooms up in the Bronx. I was delighted that I was to live in New York. Jack had boarded so long that because he wanted it, we went to housekeeping at once. I would have preferred to board a while, until I had seen something of New York. But when he pleaded for a home I said no more.

We paid $25 a month for our rooms up three flights of stairs! To me it seemed exorbitant. In Holden's home, one could rent a good sized house with yard and vegetable garden for that. But Dick explained that we had no coal to buy, and that we were near the subway, which he thought necessary as it would save time. Dick hated to get up mornings, and I declared it was of that he thought when he rented the apartment.

Dick had saved about $600 before we were married. "If I had met you sooner I'd have had more," he said regretfully when we talked things over. "Oh, we can start beautifully or that?" I rejoined. To me it seemed quite a fortune.

We had a small house wedding. Our gifts, which were mostly sober, sensible ones, nearly furnished the apartment. We had a few handsome things from Dick's relatives and friends, enough to give a little touch of elegance to our living room. But these few handsome gifts needed corresponding expenditures, so most of the $400 we spent went for a hand some rug, a desk, table and then the necessary housekeeping equipment.

From the moment I stepped off the train at the Grand Central Station I was completely fascinated with New York and with the thoughts of the new life I was to lead. I wanted everything I saw, envied the women, admired the men, and planned what to me seemed a heavenly time.

Tomorrow—The Beginning—Envy.

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. KOENIG, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

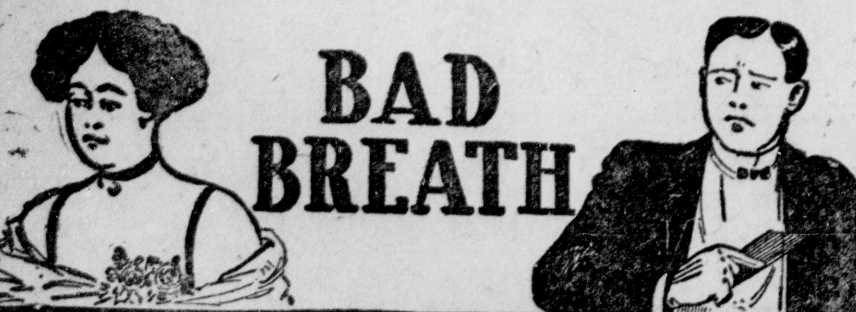

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. PAUL PAPENFUSE, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.
